

Please encourage expanded community radio, like Low Power FM radio. Local stations help build and maintain neighborhoods and communities, like they existed earlier in the 20th century.

It helps protect local news broadcasts by allowing local citizens access to the tools to make their voices heard on their own airwaves.

Because small communities cannot compete against monopolies like Clear Channel and Viacom, please limit their expansion, so local radio stations have an opportunity to compete.

thank you,
-john martin